

Meet the Staff

MikeCo-Director/Contributor*

Mike has been employed in various information system fields for the past 27 years. His desire to mold young minds to become believers in Christ led to the joint effort with Craig to start a website to help other Sunday school teachers do the same. His 15 years of teaching Sunday school gives him the experience and vision to make Bible lessons more fun and meaningful.

CraigCo-Director/Contributor*

Craig spent over 25 years in administration and management for a major transportation company. His 20 plus years of combined experience leading Christian small groups and teaching Sunday school led to the vision shared with Mike to start a website to help other teachers spread the Good News of Jesus to children around the world.

LenAccounting/Contributor*

A degree in Business and Accounting and working for a Tax and Accounting Company gives Len the ability to manage the business end of KSSP. She also spent many years leading Christian small groups and teaching Sunday school. Her short stories and skits geared towards a young audience stem from her desire to teach and entertain children.

BeckySpanish Translation/Correspondence*

Spending many years growing up in the mission field enabled Becky to learn Spanish as a second language. With two preschoolers, Becky is still able to remain active in church, by volunteering and singing in the choir. Her help in translating our material into Spanish is a big contribution to our Spanish speaking neighbors and missionaries.

AndreaSpanish Translation, Editor/Contributor*

After spending 11 years in Mexico, Andie is currently continuing her Christian education back in the United States. Her part time work with KSSP includes editing, translating, and contributing lesson materials and skits. She is also an active volunteer in her local church, teaching children and using sign language as one of her many talents.

TitusAdvisor/Contributor*

Titus has a B.A. in Youth Ministry and a M.A. in Historical Theology. He has been in youth ministry for 12 years and has served in small, medium, and large congregations. His passions are preaching, teaching, and helping other volunteers do the same. He currently serves on staff at a Christian Church outside Houston, Texas. Titus came on board out of his desire to share his life goal to get people thinking about Jesus, and to help equip others in that effort. His lessons are written to pique the interest of today's teens.

MeredithEditor*

Before earning her M.A. in English Literature from DePaul University, Meredith spent a year editing for numerous publications. In addition to editing for KSSP, she currently teaches composition at community colleges.
