Help and Comfort

Instructions: Circle the best answer for each scenario below.

Ron, a family friend, has been unemployed for over two years. He has been working hard to find a new job, but no one is hiring. Ron is running out of money and is wondering how he will feed his children in the upcoming weeks. What would be the best way to comfort Ron?

A) Ask him to go see a movie to take his mind off his problem.
B) Explain that many people are out of work, but things will get better eventually.
C) Tell him about your church’s food pantry program.

The elderly man across the street, also known as the gardener, broke his leg and will be in a cast all summer. His only child, a daughter, comes by to cook and clean for him, but she has many outdoor allergies. What would be the best way to help your neighbor?

A) Bring your neighbor several books to read.
B) Offer to cut his grass this summer, free of charge.
C) Tell him not to worry; nice yards are overrated.

Your grandmother is very lonely since your grandfather passed away. She has friends in the area, but they are often busy with their own families. What would be the best way to help comfort your grandmother?

A) Give her your undivided attention, each week, when you visit her.
B) Suggest that she join a seniors group.
C) Remind her that the family always gets together on major holidays.
