

Cut out these strips and fold to make flags

There is a new student in your class from England. How would you make her feel welcome?

A boy in your class is from Mexico and cannot understand his homework written in English. How can you help him?

Your Chinese neighbor dresses differently from the rest of the kids where you live. What could you do to help her make friends?

Everyone in your school secretly makes fun of this Jewish boy because he wears a peculiar hat on his head. What would you do?

You know a certain person in your Sunday school class that always sits alone. The teacher chose you to be his partner for an activity. How would you react?

Your Sunday school class has a visitor who believes in a different religion. How would you introduce him to Jesus?

Your teacher announces that there will be several new children attending your school, who are refugees from a different country. How can you help them fit in?

The new kid on your block has a very thick accent, and you can hardly understand the way he talks. The other kids make fun of him. What can you do?

A disabled child joins your class, and makes distracting noises all the time. How can you help her participate and listen to the teacher?

You do not like your sister's friend, because you think she is not "cool" enough. Does that mean you are a better person, why?