TEACHINGS TO REMEMBER

Directions: Mothers, Grandmothers, and other female role models in our lives teach us so many important things! Sometimes we do not understand why adults teach us certain things, but it is for a purpose. God tells us that our parents’ teachings are worth remembering. Use the activity below to help you remember some of the important things you have been taught. Once you finish, your teacher will give you a card to decorate for your mother or female role model. List some of the things from this page that your mom taught you. Don’t forget to sign your name!

When you wake up be sure to ________________________________

Before you go to bed be sure to ________________________________

If it is raining, be sure to ________________________________

If you play outside, be sure to ________________________________

Remember to eat ________________________________

When you are scared, be sure to ________________________________

When you are tired, be sure to ________________________________

When you have a question about God, ask ________________________________

When someone is unkind to you ________________________________

When you want to know what God teaches ________________________________

When you are worried, you should ________________________________

When you see someone sad or hurting, you should ________________________________